SCHOOLS CLOSE BECAUSE OF ILLNESS

High School, Placerville Grammar School, Expect To Resume Classes On Monday

Owing to the increasing number of absences owing to severe colds or similar illness among the pupils, officials of the county high school and of Placerville Grammar School announced Thursday noon that classes will be suspended on Friday.

Both institutions, it was indicated, will expect to resume class work on Monday morning.

Meanwhile, health officials urged that the pupils should, during the weekend, avoid congregating in groups as much as possible and otherwise take precautions to guard against the spread of the cold epidemic.

Partly in co-operation with this suggestion and partly due to the circumstance that so many players are ill, the high school announced cancellation of its scheduled basketball games with the Folsom high school on Thursday night.

Principal B. E. Larson reported that of an active enrollment of 580, there were 120 absentees on Thursday, a gain of thirty over the ninety absentees in high school for the day before.

Principal J. H. Palmer reported that Thursday morning there were 65 out of 375 pupils who were absent from grammar school, and that in the afternoon session the absentees had increased to eighty.

It was hoped that with the one-day closing and the weekend, the general health would be improved by Monday.

Principal Larson pointed out that it is important that classes be resumed and conducted on schedule "because every day we lose now means one more day added to the school year in June."

Nurse Bride Of Amador Rancher

Friends Will Honor Pair On Sunday At Reception At Dagostini Residence

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Esola, married Wednesday afternoon at the Catholic Church at Carson City, are expected home from the southern part of the state Sunday to be guests of honor at a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dagostini, in the Aukum district, during the afternoon.

Mrs. Esola is the former Miss Frances Dagostini, who for several years past has been a member of the staff of nurses at Placerville Sanatorium. Her husband, son of J. Esola, of Amador County and a native of Jackson, is engaged in ranching near Plymouth where the couple will make their home.

The two were accompanied to Carson City on Wednesday by Miss Mary Porini, of Placerville, who was maid of honor at the service, and the bridegroom's brother-in-law, La Verne Stahl.

The service was followed by a dinner for the bridal party, following which Mr. and Mrs. Esola left for the southern part of the state.

Mrs. Esola is a native of Sunrise, Wyoming, and was educated in Nevada and California schools. The completion of her academic training she entered St. Joseph's Hospital, at Stockton, from which she was graduated in nursing.

During her years of residence as a girl at the family home in the Aukum district, and in her several years of service as a member of the nursing staff at the Sanatorium, she has won many friends with whom she hasten to join in extending to her all good wishes, and to Mr. Esola our hearty congratulations.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Help to Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis

93rd Birthday Is Observed

Mrs. Coddington Is Honored At Her Home At Spanish Dry Diggings

GEORGETOWN, (Special)—Mrs. Mary L. Coddington celebrated her ninety-third birthday Sunday, November 17, at her home at Spanish Dry Diggings where she has lived almost continuously for more than sixty-five years.

More than forty children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren shared the birthday dinner and a legion of other friends join in wishing her continuing happiness and contentment.

Despite her years, Mrs. Coddington spends most of her time making fancy work and is always happy to display her large assortment of handiwork.

Among those who came from a distance to be with her on her ninety-third birthday anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Eaton and Mr. and Mrs. Don Brasseo, of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Goldworthy, of Berkeley; Mrs. J. L. Conroy, of Castella; and Mr. and Mrs. J. Bleasay, Dorothy Bleasay and William Casey, of Sparks, Nevada.

EAGLES AUXILIARY TO HAVE CHRISTMAS TREE FOR MEMBERS, FAMILIES

Members of Placerville Eagles Auxiliary will hold a Christmas tree party and program for members and their families on Saturday evening, December 21st at seven o'clock.

Arrangements for the evening are in the care of Mrs. Lilly Rexas and Mrs. Mildred Lefevre and at the meeting of the auxiliary on Monday night Mrs. Martha Fields and Mrs. Norma Humphreys were named as a committee to purchase the gifts for the children.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Revas as president in the absence of Mrs. Mary Merryman, who was ill. Others reported ill were Mrs. Mrs. Pauline Wood, Mrs. Alta Sheldon and Mrs. Flossie Henderson.

After the meeting games were played with prizes for the winners and delicious sandwiches and coffee were served.

The ladies of the L. D. S. church relief society will hold their first annual bazaar Saturday, December 7. It is to be held in the banquet room of the I. O. O. F. Hall. According to Mrs. Allene Cheney, president of the society, all units of the Placerville branch of the church are to take part, each having agreed to conduct a booth.

B. J. Jones, our former county farm advisor, now agronomist with the University Extension Service, was a caller on Thursday morning from Berkeley.

Mrs. Roy Strum was confined to her home Thursday, with an attack of the flu.

SEALS ALLIES FOR HEALTH

Design This Year, By Felix Martini, Pictures Singing Of Carols

By MILDRED M. BLAIR
Publicity Chairman

Monday of this week marked the opening of the Christmas Seal campaign of the El Dorado County Tuberculosis Association.

Christmas Day marks the close! Just thirty days, and almost the busiest days of the whole year! Much to accomplish, many to remember.

This year, when Americans feel their responsibility toward the suffering peoples of war-ridden Europe and Asia, there is danger that we shall fail to see the need in our country, or minimize the need of our own people. At such a time, when we are thinking of national preparedness we should welcome the opportunity of purchasing the Christmas Seals as they are our allies in health, and most of the funds so raised are put to work here in our own country.

The 1940 Christmas Seal was designed by Felix Martini, a Los Angeles artist. It pictures two boys and a girl singing Christmas carols. Three special seals are featured on the sheet of 100, each being a close-up of one of the three children. A large double-barred cross, international emblem of the fight to eradicate tuberculosis is displayed on each seal in the lower right-hand corner.

Carol singing is of great antiquity among Christian communities. It is a song of praise at Christmas-tide, and a high church authority has said that the oldest carol was that sung by the heavenly host when the birth of the Savior was announced to the shepherds on the plains of Bethlehem. It is probable that the practice of singing carols at Christmas tide arose in imitation of this as the majority of carols declared the good tidings of great joy.

Originally, a carol meant a song accompanied by dancing, and appears to have been danced by many performers by taking hands forming a ring and singing as they went round; for this reason most of the old carols were set to dance tunes. Such songs came in vogue when it was usual at Christmas-tide to give representation, with lay figures, in churches and private houses, of the stable-birth of the child Jesus, which the religious accomplished with singing and dancing. During the Middle Ages, a choir boy was frequently elected "Boy Bishop," on St. Nicholas Day, December 6th.

So our little Christmas Seal proclaims glad tidings, sung by happy, healthy children, with the double-barred cross as the symbol of courage and hope.

Extra seals may be obtained at Murray's and the Placerville News Company.

City Patrolman Glenn Payne was confined at home Wednesday with a severe cold.

16 STATES KEEP THANKSGIVING "OLD STYLE"

Parades, Pageants In Massachusetts, 7 Die While Shoveling Snow

BOSTON, (U)—Seven men died in the New England area last night from over-exertion while shoveling snow.

BOSTON, (U)—Led by New England, 16 states celebrated Thanksgiving today, the traditional last Thursday of the month.

The other 32 states marked the holiday last Thursday, the early Thanksgiving proclaimed by the President at the request of businessmen who asked for a longer shopping period between the November and December holidays. Ten states switched over to the new date this year.

Massachusetts, where the Pilgrim fathers inaugurated Thanksgiving 319 years ago, had numerous parades and pageants. At Plymouth, the townspeople reenacted the "Landing of the Pilgrims" and "the First Thanksgiving." It was a "white" Thanksgiving for most of sections of the six New England states, and temperatures for the most part were low.

Other states that celebrated today were Pennsylvania, Tennessee, North Carolina, Florida, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Iowa, South Dakota, and Nevada.

Rhode Island and Kentucky celebrated both Thanksgiving.

At Sanborn, N. Y., the Tuscarora Indians celebrated the traditional last Thursday.

Roll Call Ends On Saturday

Three Groups Cited For 100 Pct. Enrollment; Early Report Is Urged

With the annual Red Cross Roll Call scheduled to close on Saturday, officials of the chapter on Thursday announced plans for a re-check of this year's enrollment against that of previous years following which they will offer those who enrolled in other years and who have not yet enrolled this year an opportunity to "join up."

Chapter officials reported that some district captains have completed their work and reported. It was urged that any who have not reported should do so promptly following the close of the Roll Call on Saturday.

Officers reported that the Roll Call is, apparently, keeping pace with the fine record of the chapter in other years and noted that the employees of the Diamond Springs Lime Company, and the staffs of the county high school and the Placerville grammar school are again enrolled one hundred per cent.

Similar distinction has been claimed by other groups in the county to which the distinctive Red Cross window card signifying that fact has been awarded.

Any persons who desire to enroll in the Red Cross or to renew their membership, and who are not contacted by their district captain, may leave their membership personally or send it by mail to E. Ogden Hook, treasurer of the chapter, at the Bank of America, Placerville.

Sam Speers Reported as Better On Thursday

Doctors appeared much more encouraged Thursday when they reported that the condition of S. M. Speers, a Sanatorium patient since last Saturday, shows continuing improvement.

Although it was indicated that Mr. Speers' condition is better than it had been, it also was noted that he continues seriously ill and that it will be several days, even with continuing improvement, before the "no visitors" requests will be withdrawn.

PINO GRANDE MILL CLOSES

M.-C. L. Co. Completes Cut Of 33,917,000 Feet During Season Of About 7 Months

CAMINO, (Special)—The Michigan-California Lumber Company, one of the major lumbering concerns of the county, closed its mill at Pino Grande last week.

Fifty-five men of the one hundred fifty employed at the mill and in the woods have remained at the mill to repair the mill and locomotives for re-opening of the woods season next year.

The tractors used in logging operations were brought to Camino on Monday and will be repaired in the company's plant here and made ready for the start of work next season.

The mill at Pino Grande operated about seven months this season and cut 33,917,000 feet, a large percentage being the now famous Camino Quality sugar pine. About 23,000,000 feet is stored in the company's yards where work is carried on the year around and the lumber is made into box shooks or sorted into other grades and shipped throughout the world.

During the season there were fifteen more cabins and three family cottages erected at or near the mill site.

5 TAHOE CABINS CLAIMED TO HAVE BEEN ROBBED BY 2 SUSPECTS

Sheriff George M. Smith revealed Thursday morning that he and Deputy Euell Y. Gray, in company with a Sacramento officer and one of the Lake Tahoe cabin burglar suspects had spent Wednesday night at Lake Valley checking up on supposed operations of the two suspects.

Sacramento police arrested the pair, Robert Davis, 27, and Ansley Lohr, 24, Tuesday evening while they were, assertedly, attempting to peddle to Sacramento pawn shops loot from the Tahoe cabins.

The sheriff reported that cabins of Caroline Wells, of Manhatthan Beach; R. Scott Sochran and W. J. Thomas, of Oakland; Georgianna Drumm, of San Francisco, and former Nevada Governor Richard Kirmann, of Reno, are believed to have been burglarized.

The sheriff also reported that the suspected duo have admitted stealing a car in New York and driving to the coast and that they are charged with pilferings along the route and are wanted also at Los Angeles, Long Beach and other cities. The sheriff said they confessed seeing loot stolen and receiving in all about $4,000 for it at pawn shop prices.

It was indicated the pair may be prosecuted by federal authorities under charges of transporting a stolen car between states or, in the event they are not wanted by the federal government, they will face prosecution for the Lake Valley burglaries.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Hanford Crookard and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson and daughter, all of Roseville, and Miss Bula Johnson, of San Francisco, spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Rolan Dunkum at their home on Sheridan Street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Nelson were in town Monday from Garden Valley.

58th Wedding Day Is Kept

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Voss Pass Anniversary At Home Of Their Daughter

GRIZZLY FLATS, (Special)—Grizzly Flats residents are very proud of two of their distinguished residents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Voss, who celebrated their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary on November 19th.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Voss were born near here and have lived their lives here, except that in recent years it has been their custom to move to their daughter's home, near Diamond Springs, for the winter.

They have been readers of The Democrat for over forty years.

Mr. Voss was interested in mining and worked at the Mt. Pleasant and the gravel mines located near here during the time when the town was booming.

They have a son, William Voss, Jr., who lives at Diamond Springs, and a daughter, Mrs. Antone Meyer, of Ringgold, in addition to grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

DEWEY BACOCINI CALLED BY DEATH THURSDAY MORNING

Dewey Bacocini died Thursday morning at a Placerville hospital where he had been a patient since Monday for the treatment of an intestinal ailment.

Deceased was a native of Auburn, resident in El Dorado County thirty four years, a veteran of the world war and a member of El Dorado Post No. 119, American Legion.

He is survived by six brothers and one sister, who are, Leo, of Nevada; Dante and August, of Placerville; Julius, of Berkeley; Peter, of Coon Hollow and Leon, of Diamond Springs; and Mrs. Mary Williams, of Five-Mile Terrace.

The arrangements for the last rites are being concluded with the assistance of Memory Chapel.

The funeral services will be Sunday at 12:15 o'clock from Memory Chapel under auspices of Placerville Aerie No. 889, F. O. E. Interment will be at Union cemetery under auspices of El Dorado Post No. 119, American Legion.

COUNTY TAXES WILL BECOME DELINQUENT IF UNPAID ON DECEMBER 5th

The first installment of county taxes, currently due, will become delinquent if unpaid on December 5, which is Thursday of next week.

According to W. F. Truscott, his office is prepared to accept payment of the first installment, or both the first and second installment at this time.

Mr. Truscott reports that there is a prospect of only a small delinquency on the first installment and that a number of the taxpayers have seen fit to pay both installments all ready.

W. J. Robinson and Art Hansen bagged a 500-pound brown bear on Badger Hill, about two and a half miles from Camino, Wednesday night. They displayed the carcass on Main Street in Placerville Thursday morning and Mr. Robinson said the hide had been sold.

NAVAL VICTORY CLAIMED BY ITALIANS

London Is Silent On Reported Encounter Off Sardinia Wednesday

By UNITED PRESS

Italy claimed a major naval victory over the British in the Mediterranean today and reported her forces were making successful counter-attacks in Albania.

No report in detail has been made by the British Admiralty regarding the engagement of the Italian and British war fleets. It occurred south of Sardinia yesterday.

The Italian communique claimed naval hits on two crack British cruisers, one of the 10,000-ton Kent class and one of the 9,100-ton Birmingham class. A follow-up attack by Italian warplanes was said to have brought hits on another cruiser, an aircraft carrier and a battleship.

The Italians admitted slight losses. They said that the 1,620-ton destroyer Lanciere was badly damaged by British shells and had to be towed back to port and that a British shell struck the cruiser Flume, 10,000 tons, but luckily failed to explode.

According to Italian accounts, an Italian squadron cruising off Sardinia met a British force coming from the west. It was made up of battleships, an aircraft carrier and many cruisers, Rome said. Action followed immediately in which it was claimed the two British cruisers and the two Italian warships were hit.

In Albania it appeared that the Italian lines were stiffening. Gen. Ubaldo Soddu appeared to be exerting every effort to establish a firm new defense line running east to west just south of Elbasan and evidently was employing Italian aviation extensively to impede the advancing Greeks.

Athens heard that Marshal Pietro Badoglio, Italy's top commander, had gone to Tirano for a personal inspection of Soddu's work. The Greek war was a month old today and the Greeks were jubilant over their success thus far.

2 Showings For Xmas Festival

High School Announces Matinee Will Be Given At 2:30 On December 19

The annual Christmas Festival at the high school, which is a feature each year in the series of community events in the Christmas season, will be presented in two performances this year, it was announced this week by Principal B. E. Larson.

"In addition to the regular festival program on Thursday evening, December 19, we will have a matinee performance this year at 2:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon," Mr. Larson announced.

"It is well known," he added, "that there is no admission charge for the Christmas Festival."

The principal said that the school officials were prompted to schedule a matinee presentation of the Christmas Festival to insure a full opportunity for all high school pupils to see the presentation, and also to relieve the over-crowding which has accompanied presentation of the festival in other years at only one evening performance.

"We hope that the smaller children and as many adults as may care to will arrange to attend the afternoon presentation so that over-crowding at the evening presentation may be avoided," Mr. Larson said.

Rhythm in Math

Order of the Tables Simplifies Them

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, P.D.

Most of us learned the multiplication tables in groups of 2's, 3's and 4's. We said: "2 times 1 are 2, 2 times 2 are 4, 2 times 3 are 6," and so on. The 9 times was the last one and seemed the hardest. Some of us also learned the tables of 10's, 11's and 12's. Few do nowadays. However, most children today learn the multiplication tables about as we did.

There is something about the rhythm and order of these tables that make them easy. But after you have learned a table, say of 7's and know it perfectly you might have trouble on meeting up with a combination out of its order. I remember, for example, that for a long while after I could say the table of 7's rapidly and accurately, I would have trouble when I had to multiply 6 by 7 or 9 by 7. I could not get either one until I had said over all the rest of the table of 7's from the beginning to the combination wanted. Other adults tell me they must do so still with certain multiplication facts. I have found numerous school children who must.

Facts as Facts

It is a much better practice to learn each multiplication fact as a fact alone, therefore, not to learn it in a table of 2's, 3's, 7's and the like. Accordingly, the child would learn, for example, the fact, 2 times 7 are 14, 6 times 4 are 24, then 3 times 9 are 27. This is just as I suggested the learning of each of the 100 addition and 100 subtraction facts. In ordinary experience with numbers we don't stay in the table of any one group. They come at random. Why not learn them so?

A good way is to write down all the tables, then cut them up, shuffle the slips of proper pairs, draw them by chance and copy each combination as you draw it. Then you will have a sheet of all the multiplication combinations which the child will need to memorize.

If you do so, be sure not to have the child attack more than three of these facts at a sitting. The child saves time if right after he memorizes the fact, "3 times 7 are 21," he also memorizes the fact, "7 times 3 are 21." He might know one without knowing the other.

Table Talk

The chances are that your child will have to learn his tables at school in groups as you did. If this is the way it is done at school don't interfere. Encourage the child to go on the school way. You might, however, induce him to practice in any such table by having them out of order. Say he has learned the table of 4's. Induce him to cut the pairs up in slips and shuffle the slips and then try himself out on them, being careful to look at each product if in doubt.

Encourage him never to use any multiplication, addition or subtraction fact in a problem until he has first memorized this fact. Let him learn by heart each number fact first then use it as soon as possible thereafter.

I still have on hand copies of the 100 addition and 100 subtraction facts which every child should learn by heart before the age of nine or ten, since he will use them all the rest of his life. You may have without cost, a copy of each by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Are formal parties helpful to the timid, lonely, non-social child?
A. No; they make him more timid and non-social, as a rule. What he needs is informal mingling at play with one or several children constantly.

Q. Is there any sense in rebuking or punishing a child of 10 or 16 if, while in a rage, he is throwing objects or using abusive language?
A. No; any talk by the parent at that time only enrages the child more. Be as cool, then, as a cucumber. I suppose cucumbers are cool. Wait several hours or days for an opportune time when you and the child are wholly calm and poised. Then gently remind him of the way he acted and ask him if he would not like to try to change himself when annoying situations arise, assuring him you would like to help him in any way you can.

DES MOINES, IOWA (UP) — This is the city where the "white hope" beats eternal in the breasts of the boxing lovers.

Not so long ago Des Moines felt that Johnny Paycheck's skill had ripened like the corn and that he would go forth to win the heavyweight title from Joe Louis, the Republican orator. Johnny went forth, all right, but he came in a bad second.

His was at the same time the weakest and the bravest challenge ever made for a championship title. It was the weakest because he was knocked out without ever having thrown a punch. It was the bravest because no man ever was as terrified in a ring as he was, and only courage of the highest order kept him from collapsing while waiting for the first bell to ring.

Now Des Moines, undaunted by Paycheck's annihilation, has fastened its hopes upon Lee Savold, one of its younger and blonder citizens. This city already has a schedule worked out for Lee. He is to partially erase the painful memory of Paycheck by beating light-heavyweight champion, Billy Conn, in New York's Madison Square Garden Friday night, and then he is to vindicate Des Moines completely by going on to a victory next summer over the aging politician, Louis.

Reports from New York that Conn has been made a 1 to 3 favorite over the Iowa are discounted here on the grounds that the east is biased toward its eastern fighter, and everyone is quite sure that Savold should certainly be no worse than even money. Everyone was cheered, too, by reports that Savold has been training seriously for the bout. Inquiry here revealed that for a while it was feared that Savold had ambitions to become the corn belt Tony Galento. Blessed with a natural taste for beer, and an equally natural dislike for such things as shadow boxing, sparring, road work, and diets, he found it difficult to maintain what medical men term "tip top" shape. His weight rose and fell like the tides. Sometimes he would fight at 190 and sometimes at 225 and 230.

For Conn, however, the Des Moines Norwegian has really worked. Before going to New York to do his final work in the smart atmosphere of the exclusive Columbus circle gymnasium (no one allowed unless wearing cap and sweater) he toiled for three weeks in a Wisconsin forest, where it is said he had the local beavers marvelling at his industry.

Des Moines feels that Savold will knock out Conn. Here he is regarded as the hardest hitter in the world, Louis included, and the fact that he has broken the jaws of several of his recent opponents is spoken of with justifiable pride. He is said to hit just as devastatingly with his left hand as with his right, and that his left jab is not only a superbly fashioned weapon but one that packs tremendous authority. Savold's courage and stamina never have been questioned, either. He got off the floor to give Buddy Baer a busy evening and out here they figure if the mammoth baer couldn't spot him, Conn's punches certainly won't bother him.

For myself, I am not so sure about that. Billy the kid hit Savold more than he ever was hit before. That's a certainty. There isn't a boxer who can match Conn for speed and accuracy. And he can punch, too. When he wants to, that is. When Billy tires of fancy-dancing it and settles down on his feet, he can throw a right hand that'll hurt anyone. I saw him knock Bob Pastor through the ropes with a right hand smash, and Pastor takes a fair sort of punch. For Des Moines sake I hope Savold wins. But it'll surprise me if he is in there at the finish.

RUSSIA CREDITED WITH BLOCKING FURTHER NAZI EXPANSION THROUGH MIDDLE EAST; HITLER HALTED FOR PRESENT

By J. W. T. MASON
United Press War Expert

Russia has checked German plans for a military offensive through the middle east, at least for the time being. Reports today from Moscow state great prominence is being given in Russian newspapers to Bulgaria's refusal to join the triple alliance and to the presence in Sofia of a Soviet diplomatic mission. This journalistic display is Stalin's way of making known a Slav victory to the Russian people.

In Bulgaria blackouts are to be discontinued and there is a public display of deep satisfaction that the nation has not been forced into the war. It is beyond reasonable doubt that Russia has guided Bulgaria's policy in recent weeks, when the Germans were struggling to gain Sofia's adhesion to the tripartite pact.

If the Germans were to force their way through Bulgaria in order to attack Turkey and so try to reach Suez, their difficulties would be increased seriously. Without the co-operation of Bulgaria, the German general staff would have to face the possibility of eventual Russian enmity, which might become active if the Turkish campaign became bogged.

Too, an offensive in the middle east, even under the most advantageous conditions, would open the vital Rumanian oil fields to air bombardment, with Bulgaria antagonistic to a German thrust, this danger would increase, making the wells a hostage to fortune.

By any standard of realistic therefore, it would seem safe to conclude that Herr Hitler must now abandon whatever tentative plans have been made to move against Suez through the middle east. The Germans may try another diplomatic maneuver later to change the Slav attitude, but only some development in the war menacing to Russia can ever cause Stalin to consent to further German expansion further threatening Russia's southern front.

Already Rumania's signature to the triple treaty allows Germany a position on the Black Sea which can only mean potential danger to Russia. It is incredible that Stalin would voluntarily agree to Bulgaria's Black Sea coast passing under German control, giving the Nazis overwhelming mastery of the western area of that waterway. However much the Fuehrer may dream of reconciling Russia to his ambition of dominating the Balkans and controlling the middle east, it is fantastic to suppose he can succeed by soft words and cooling argument. Only force can make Russia obedient and Germany is not prepared to deal harshly with Russia while the British Empire continues the war.

The reckless policy by Germany would tend to throw Britain and Russia together for mutual protection. The triple alliance and Rumania's union with Germany already have opened slightly the door to better relations between the Russians and the British.

Indeed, by diplomatic resistance to German middle eastern plans Russia now has given the British breathing time at Suez. The longer Germany is restrained from embarking on a campaign through Turkey, the stronger will the British position become, more especially through numerical increase in the British air force.

In the end the German general staff may abandon altogether Herr Hitler's design to get Suez, especially if Russia's objections become more pronounced and the British defensive position is heavily strengthened. It is probable that the success of Greek resistance in the Italian war has played some part in stiffening the Slav attitude.

The Greeks have broken down any theory of Axis invincibility and the automatic working of a Blitzkrieg. Though the loss of prestige is essentially Italian, nevertheless, there is a reflection of it in German aloofness from the Greek campaign. Russian realism may visualize a crack in the Axis and if that be so, it must be Stalin's obvious policy to await results with hopes for Russian gains in the end.

NEW INFLUENZA VACCINE TESTED AT PRISON AND UNIVERSITY

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—Several hundred volunteers at University of California Hospital and San Quentin Prison hospital have been inoculated with a new vaccine designed to protect against influenza. It was disclosed today.

The serum was developed by the Rockefeller Institute scientists and the tests here were part of a series being conducted throughout the country to determine efficacy of the vaccine.

The tests will be spread over a period of weeks with the volunteers receiving additional injections and scientists watching their reactions. University Hospital scientists emphasized that the tests were experimental and the vaccine was not available to the public.

Youth Congress Delegate Speaks Sunday Evening

The public and friends of the Episcopal Church are welcome to attend a lecture to be given at the parish Hall Sunday evening, December 1st, at 8 p. m. The speaker will be Peter Boes, of Vallejo, who will speak on the International Youth Congress held in Amsterdam, Holland, prior to the outbreak of hostilities. Mr. Boes is teacher of history at the Vallejo high school and was one of the American delegates to the congress. Before and after the conference Mr. Boes spent some time visiting places of great interest on the continent. He appears in Placerville at the invitation of the Young People's Fellowship, of the Episcopal Church. A free will offering will be taken.

Church Group Had Program On Sunday Evening

Last Sunday night a patriotic program was held by the L. D. S. Church, with a large audience in attendance at the regular meeting in the banquet room of the I. O. O. F. Hall.

Entertainment, in addition to the regular sacrament service, included two songs by a trio of young people from the Old Testament Sunday School Class, Miss Betty Tidwell, Jeffery Harper and Miss Constance Taylor and a song, "God Bless America," by the congregation.

Speakers were Clyde Curtis, president of the Placerville Branch of the Church, who gave a resume of Latter Day Saint history with reference to pioneer Mormons of California, and Thomas Maul, who delivered a talk on patriotism and allegiance to the flag.

4,000 SPIKE HOLES WITHOUT A BLOW-OUT OR A FLAT TIRE!

GOODRICH
Seal-o-matic
INNER TUBES PILE UP AMAZING RECORD AT
N. Y. WORLD'S FAIR

YOU TOO WANT THIS 2-WAY SAFETY

DRIVING at high speed over 3-inch spikes... that was the climax of the Goodrich World's Fair show. Jimmie Lynch did it 6 to 9 times a day... a total of 4,000 spike-holes through tires and tubes. Yet he never got a blow-out or a flat tire... because he rode on Goodrich Seal-o-matic Tubes. The "Self-Healing" lining in those tubes instantly sealed even the big spike-gashes. The 60% stronger tube walls kept them from ripping further. This super-protection can save you money.
